Will Incorporate Winter Sports

BUSINESS MEN ASKED TO MEET OCTOBER 4TH

Preliminary meetings have been held for the purpose of planning better management for our winter sports activities and park. This project is growing at a rapid rate and it was clear to most of those interested that some arrangements should be made to place it on a better business footing.

Accordingly Wm. Hill, of the Kerry & Hanson Flooring Co., a gentleman well versed in business organization, has drawn up a plan for taking care of the affairs of the association. The plan was submitted at a meeting held at the winter sports park Sunday afternoon and it met with unanimous approval. The plans provide for a large board of directors that will be comprised of nearly all the business men of Grayling. And there will be an executive committee upon whom most of the management will be vested. And there will be the usual officers.

Special Meeting Called For October 4th

In order to bring this matter to the attention of all of our business men and others interested, a meeting will be held in the Court House on Thursday evening, October 4th at 8:00 o'clock.

This is a matter that should interest everyone in Grayling and there should be a well attended meeting. Besides formally electing the board of directors, the officers for the ensuing year will be elected at that time.

Please, Mr. Business Man, be at the meeting. If you are not interested personally in winter sports, you surely are interested in Grayling. The date is October 4th at 8:00 p. m. at the Court house.

Survey Insect Life On Trout Streams

In a project sponsored by the Michigan Emergency Conservation Work office, Professor W. F. Morofsky of Michigan State college is conducting a survey of the insect life on certain trout streams in the lower peninsula of Michigan.

Morofsky has been granted a leave of absence in order to make the study. It is intended to show, among other things, the relative abundance of the various species of insect on improved and unimproved trout streams.

Morofsky will probably complete his work by mid-November.

"Perfect" Murders
"Perfect" murders were committed in Asia not many years ago with the aid of cobras. One of a pair would be killed and dragged to the bedside of the victim. The mate would follow the trail and, called near the sleeper, would strike him when he awoke and disturbed it in the morning.

REFUSE TO DEAL WITH REAGAN

J. R. Bemroth states that a telegram would be sent the State Welfare department Saturday by the Crawford County Welfare union saying that they refused to deal with Francis Reagan, state representative, and for the department to send a representative with whom they could deal. And it was intimated that in case the department failed to comply by Monday with the request of the strikers that they would proceed to organize unions in counties bordering on Crawford county.

It appears, according to the report of officers that Bryant had appropriated John Knecht's car at the Hay Loft, last Saturday night, and came to town. When ready to return it is reported that he was unable to start the car so he and Champion got into a car belonging to Herluf Sorenson and drove back to the Hay Loft.

The missing auto were reported to Sheriff Bennett and it didn't take long for him to round up the supposed violators. They were placed in jail and brought into Justice Petersen's court Monday where they waived examination and are bound over to circuit court for trial. Court will convene October 9th at noon.

The young men were unable to supply the $500 bonds required by the justice so will have to wait in jail.

FORMER GRAYLING RESIDENT DIES IN GAYLORD

Jasper Hoyt, a former resident of Grayling, passed away at his home in Gaylord Tuesday afternoon. He was 81 years of age.

He and his family came to Grayling in 1878 where they resided until 1902 when they moved to Gaylord. While here he was employed as engineer in the Goodale lumber mill. That was before Salting Hanson Co. located here. He was interested in athletics and was manager of Grayling's first official base ball team. No doubt many of our older residents will remember Mr. Hoyt. He was a brother-in-law to Postmaster M. A. Bates, having married the latter's sister.

Following the program of the evening the ladies of the O.E.S. served an appetizing and enjoyable lunch. The remainder of the evening was spent playing cards and visiting. Everyone speaks of the occasion as a very delightful social affair. Card prizes were won by Mrs. Luther Herrick for pedro; Mrs. William McNeven, "500" and Otto Failing for pinche.

Help Themselves To Automobiles

CCC BOYS AWAIT TRIAL IN JAIL

James Bryant, 18, and Lloyd Champion, 18, enrollees in CCC camp No. 681, are in jail awaiting trial in Circuit court. They are charged with "unauthorized taking and using an automobile of another without intent to steal the same."

It appears, according to the report of officers that Bryant had appropriated John Knecht's car at the Hay Loft, last Saturday night, and came to town. When ready to return it is reported that he was unable to start the car so he and Champion got into a car belonging to Herluf Sorenson and drove back to the Hay Loft.

New Auto Sales Up In August

Sales of new automobiles in Michigan were nearly 5,000 more during August 1934 than during August 1933, according to records of the department of state.

Last month 13,640 certificates of title were issued on new cars while during August, 1933, only 9,489 titles were issued. The sale of used cars, however, showed a slight decrease with titles on 34,039 being transferred during the month or 2,206 less than during August a year ago.

STADIUM—WHY NOT?

We have our city park in excellent condition, thanks to some of our women of esthetic inclinations and local pride, our winter sports park has had a lot of help, and we have our storm sewers. In fact, we have had a lot of very fine things done for us in the past year, and it does seem that we could do a little planning for our young people.

The school has a fine gymnasium and we don't need another but we believe we do need a stadium. We can just imagine some people wondering what is the matter with our reasoning to advocate such a thing. But we don't know of anything that would be of greater value for the boys and girls of Grayling than a fine, first class stadium; such a stadium as is in use at Petoskey. They aren't a one whit better town than Grayling and why can't we have just as good a stadium as they have?

The old base ball grounds is the ideal spot for such an institution and the site is there waiting for someone to use. It would mean good baseball, good football, good softball for young and old, good place for public demonstrations and exhibits, and a lot of other uses.

FERA is doing a lot for roads, parks, gutters, sewers and other features that are all right, but it seems that it is about time that we begin to think of the youth of Crawford county.

Let's work for a first class stadium at the old base ball grounds. It can be done and it will be one of the most worthy projects that we have put over in a long time. It means investment in boys and girls and it means better boys and girls.

THE WELFARE STRIKE

Is the strike getting anywhere? That seems to be a question uppermost in the minds of a lot of our citizens, including some of those enrolled among the strikers.

In justice to the strikers we cannot help but criticise the stories published in several Michigan newspapers to the effect that the men are striking because they got no oranges. This is ridiculous and not the truth. That feature crept into the story by Mr. Reagan's explanation of how commodities had been allotted to Michigan that never arrived and cited the orange story as an example, and those interested had wondered why Crawford county didn't get its portion. This was fully explained in our last week's edition.

The men, according to their claims, are striking for an increase of wages from 30 to 50¢ per hour; a change in the local administration, and an equitable distribution of commodities coming to Michigan counties.

As was stated in last week's edition of the Avalanche, Francis Reagan, field representative of the state welfare department, was to visit each township to listen to complaints of the strikers. This didn't go far before strike leaders decided that they would not deal with Mr. Reagan and on Saturday morning, according to their official spokesman, they were to wire the state department saying in part that they refused to deal with Reagan and to send another representative to meet with them on Monday. In case he failed to come that they, the strikers union, would organize Welfare Workers Unions in bordering counties.

Well, the representative failed to come and it is reported that six representatives of the Crawford County organization at a meeting held in Frederic were elected to get busy with organization work in other counties.

In the meantime all welfare projects have been dropped pending the conclusion of the strike. Those families on the welfare list, in the meantime, are being provided with sufficient food to sustain them, but there is no money coming into the homes as was formerly when the workers were paid in money for their work.

The spokesman for the strikers, when asked by the writer if he had been working on the welfare remarked, "no, not for 30¢ an hour." Well, then, you must have some other income. "No," was the reply, "they (meaning the welfare department) have to provide for me."

Mr. Reagan says that all welfare work will be discontinued until the strike may be satisfactorily settled. Many of the men, he claims, are ready and anxious to go back to work.

We are wondering if the next strike doesn't come from the taxpayers who have to pay the bills.

NEWS BRIEFS

Mrs. Hoger Schmidt spent the week end in Flint and Detroit.

When you think of rubber footwear, think of Orons.

Carlyle Barber returned Saturday from several days spent in Detroit.

Mrs. Orlie Shreve has returned home after visiting Dr. M. Kessler and Dr. Saba Kessler in Bay City for a couple of weeks. She also visited Dr. and Mrs. Morris Kessler at Sebewaing, and among friends in Flint. Returning was accompanied by her sister-in-law Mrs. E. D. Whiting and the Doctors Kessler of Bay City. It is necessary that Mrs. Shreve take a rest as she has been ill for some time with heart trouble, so Mrs. Whiting will be a guest at Linger Longer indefinitely.

Amateur night at Spike's Beer Garden last night was so much of a success that the management is planning to make this a weekly party. "Babe" Laurent stole the show with an impersonation and singing the war song "Over There" in broken language. He won first prize. The newly organized German band composed of Sam Smith, Will Heric, Jess Sales, Earl Stafford, Sam Cooley and Jack Clark made a hit with the crowd and won second prize. Maurice Bennett playing a mouth organ and Clare Rood a guitar won third prize. Cash prizes were awarded.

You'll Find This Only in Mexico After Oct. 31

Warmth and gaiety now fill the streets of the Mexican Village, one of fifteen foreign villages at the World's Fair in Chicago, but it, too, will fall to earth under the relentless blows of the wrecker when the American expositions closes forever Oct. 31. Gigantic special events, dwarfing by comparison those which have been scheduled at the Fair, are planned for the closing weeks, when a great thrush of "last-lookers" will break attendance records. The Fair remains intact until closing day.

HOW TO SHOOT

By Bob Nichols

Shooting Editor, Field and Stream

THE stock is the trickiest part about the shotgun. Some men spend hundreds of dollars fooling around with this pet theory and that before they find the gun stock that fits them. Such experimenting is fun, of course. But expensive fun, since gun stocks cost real money. Not many of us are blessed with enough extra cash to indulge ourselves in this direction. It is better to know just about what you need, and then go about making inexpensive minor corrections.

Most American shotguns fifteen years ago and beyond were turned out with stocks that are too crooked for upland use. Technically speaking, they have too much drop at the heel of the stock. This merely means that the distance from the projected sighting plane along the rib of the barrel down to the top of the stock at the butt-plate is too great. Such guns are not so bad for shooting on high flying waterfowl. Because here the aim is usually more deliberate and more like rifle sighting. You have plenty of time to adjust the crooked gun to your shoulder and your eye to the sighting plane. But take this same gun into upland shooting, where the bird more frequently than not bursts from cover on a surprise rise, and all too often you will find your first shot missed by undershooting.

Most men who become good upland shots with crooked guns are usually slow shots. Their crooked guns are frequently heavily choked. Their slowness in shooting prevents them from making their kills at close range. Hence they need the extra range of the full choke. A good shot trained to the use of one of our more modern make of guns, with less drop at the heel of the butt, will make such a slow shot look silly, however, because he will have the game down dead before the slow moving gun can get into action. The crooked-stock gun does not handle fast. In bringing it up you are too conscious of your movements and adjustments. Shotgun shooting becomes an art only when your movements are unconscious and instinctive. Shooting the straighter, more modern shotgun stock you are on the road to becoming an artist instead of a plodding mathematician. After sufficient training with the straighter stock gun, when the bird booms from cover you are ready to shoot in a flash.

In my opinion, the ideal upland gun should never have a drop at heel in excess of two and one-half inches. Possibly two and one-quarter inches is better, although the former dimension is a pretty good fit for the average man. Don't go to extremes, however, and get too little drop. Too little is worse than too much drop. Too little drop will cause you to miss by overshooting. The next important dimension is the drop at the comb—the high point in the top of the stock where it rests up against your cheek. The drop here should be just enough to keep your eye high enough to see the full length of your barrel. High enough so that the fore-shortened view of your full barrel length will appear to be about one-eighth to three-sixteenths of an inch. For the average shooter the drop at the comb should be about one and one-half inches.

Next the pitch of the gun. Stand your gun on a level surface with the breech of the barrel just touching a vertical wall. The muzzle should not be more than an inch or one and one-half inches from the vertical wall. I personally prefer no pitch at all in my upland gun. Others differ, however, and like just enough pitch in the butt plate to make the gun set well on the shoulder. Too much pitch will tend to cause you to miss by undershooting. Too little pitch may cause you to miss by overshooting. This is an easy adjustment to experiment with, since you can loosen your butt-plate at the heel and insert a few layers of pasteboard to try the effect of increased pitch if you like.

I favor the half pistol grip—which fits your trigger hand in its natural firing position, and helps hold the butt more securely against your shoulder.

Life is Saved by Poison

Given to Combat Poison

Found unconscious after taking 220 grains of poison (four and one-half times the average fatal dose), a young woman in London was saved recently by injections of another poison totaling six grains (twelve times the average fatal dose), according to the British Medical Journal, official publication of the British Medical Society.

The account is given as an example of the new use of strichnine in massive doses as an antidote for poisoning from hypnotic drugs of the veronal group. The injections of strichnine were given to the woman for an hour or so, and the six grains would have caused violent convulsions in a normal individual. Although she remained in a state of coma for sixty hours, it is stated, a complete recovery was made.

This gives Grayling an excellent system of storm sewers. The next thing that is necessary is to re-grade some of the streets served by the storm sewers so that the water will drain off the roadway to side gutters. At present our streets are, in many places, too flat and water stands in the street causing holes and puddles of water. This, the street committee of the council hope to have remedied just as quickly as it is possible to do so. Engineer C. A. Miller is now busy laying out plans for this work.

Question Box By ED WYNN The President

Dear Mr. Wynn:
A friend of mine told me he knew a married woman 56 years of age who sleeps in the same room with cats. Do you believe this?

Truly yours,

X ACTING.

Answer: Sure, I believe it. Your friend probably is referring to Mrs. Katz.

I am eight years old and am in the fourth grade in school. I have to write a story about a "Southern Planter." What does the teacher mean by a "Southern Planter?"

Yours truly,

L PUPIL.

Answer: A "Southern Planter" my child, is an undertaker who operates only in the South.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
There is so much talk about "Society" changing in the last twenty-five years. If this is true, can you describe the change?

Yours truly,

I. M. A. CLIMBER.

Answer: Twenty-five years ago you married into "Society." Today you divorce into it.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I gave my son, who is twelve years of age, a job to break a big rock which was in our back yard. He hammered away at it for four hours without any result. I took the hammer and broke the rock with the first blow. What is the present generation coming to?

Sincerely,

AMASSA STONE.

Answer: It was easy for you to break it after your son made it soft for you.

I live in a town and to go to work I must take a ferry over the river. Why doesn't the city government build a bridge?

Yours truly,

MRS. SIPPE.

Answer: They're afraid it will make the people cross.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
On my recent trip through the West the train stopped at a little town in Arizona. The conductor of our train pointed to a rough looking man on the platform and told me that the man he was pointing at had killed twenty men. Do you think cowboys are really as bad as that?

Truly yours,

O. PINSPACES.

Answer: No, I don't. In fact the fellow you saw in Arizona was not a cowboy but a taxi driver from the East who was in Arizona on his vacation.

At the Associated Newspapers.

Camp News

Camp Higgins

Capt. E. W. Todd, the district captain, is in Chicago on an eight-day leave and services are not being held about the district this week. He plans to return at the end of this week with Mrs. Todd and the baby who will spend the winter here. His topic for next week's talk is "Get Off the Earth."

Lieut. Miller of the Hartwick Pines camp has been named athletic officer for the Fourth Forestry District. He will look after arranging schedules and other details that were formerly the work of the chaplain.

A forestry exhibit loaned by the University of Michigan to the educational adviser is on display in the recreation room. It shows the different woods of the north forests and tells of their uses. This attractive display came here from the Five Lakes CCC camp.

Tree planting is soon to be in full swing at Camp Higgins Lake. This always means the boys return to camp with painful aches in the back and the hospital will need a large stock of linaments.

Lights over the reading desk in the recreation room have been connected by Lieut. Flewelling and now the fellows just about have to line up to get a turn sitting at the table, all of which indicated it is an appreciated improvement.

Lieut. M. C. Iglo is organizing a camera club in camp. The boys will make pin-hole cameras, develop and print their own pictures.

October 5 and 6 have been set aside by the Century of Progress as special days for CCC boys. Railroads are offering reduced fares and special rates at concessions will be given CCC men in uniforms.
